

Staying Focused, Moving Forward Together

Dear Colleagues,

As we navigate an increasingly complex global landscape, I'd like to share an update on where we are today and how we are positioning ourselves for the future. Over the last quarter, we've continued to build strong momentum across our businesses, reinforcing our reputation as a trusted provider of analytics and research solutions.

These achievements reflect your unwavering focus on customers, your drive to innovate, and the way you collaborate with one another every day. Whether you are delivering actionable insights, supporting critical business decisions, or helping clients address complex challenges, your contributions are making a meaningful difference.

We also recognize that uncertainty and change remain constants in our environment. In times like these, maintaining clarity of purpose and disciplined execution becomes even more important. Our priorities remain clear: supporting our customers, investing in growth, and fostering an environment where our people can thrive.

As we look ahead, we will continue to advance key focus areas, including digital innovation, sustainability, and operational excellence. These are not just strategic pillars - they are central to how we create long-term value for our customers, communities, and stakeholders.

I encourage you to stay focused and continue supporting one another. Together, we are well equipped to meet the opportunities and challenges ahead and emerge even stronger.

Thank you for your ongoing commitment and resilience.

Regards
